

29 June 2022

Dear Residential Care residents and families

Following our communication last Friday, we wanted to provide a final update on the status of the outbreak in our Rosebank wing.

We are very pleased to communicate that we have now received official advice from the Public Health Unit that following no further cases and the return to health of the affected residents that this outbreak can be de-escalated.

We have advised Rosebank residents and will contact their families directly to let them know the outbreak is now over.

In addition to participating in plaza visits and excursions, which recommenced for the majority of Rosebank residents on Saturday, Rosebank residents are now able to enjoy in-room visits from Thursday 30 June 2022.

We thank all our impacted residents and families for working with us to bring this outbreak to a close.

Please share with family and friends who may not be on our mailing list.

Kind regards

Michael Penhey
